Latest news from India!

Captain Joſeph Ropes, who arrived at this port on Wedneſday night laſt from India, has politely favoured us with the following important intelligence: He viſited Madras and Sumatra. He left Madras on the 30th of Auguſt, previouſly to which, the expedition under admiral Rayner, ſaid to have been deſigned againſt Manilla or Batavia, had been countermanded, and the troops and ſtores had been re-landed from the tranſports, in conſequence of very alarming diſturbances in the Myſore country, where an enterpriſing officer, formerly in the ſervice of Tippoo Sultan, had collected an army, conſiſting of 30,000 men, and had ſurpriſed a fort, which the Engliſh held in that country, and had deſtroyed every ſoul in the fort, ſuppoſed to be 1000 men. The capitol of Myſore is near Seringapatam, and the country was part of the dominions which Hyder Ally ſhared with the nabob of Arcot. It is 623 Engliſh miles from Bombay, 306 from Madras, and 1218 from Calcutta.

Captain Ropes arrived at the Cape of Good Hope in company with the Britiſh packet Apollo, and the captain of the packet informed him, that he left Madras on the 11th September, and that the officer in the Myſore country had had three engagements with the Engliſh army, in all of which the Engliſh had been ſucceſsful. But that the officer of the late Tippoo ſtill continued to recruit his forces, and was conſidered as a very formidable enemy.

The diſturbances between the Engliſh and the Caffres at the Cape of Good Hope ſtill continue. 1500 Engliſh troops were out againſt the Caffres in the back country, when capt. Ropes left the Cape.

NEW-YORK, February 5.

[The public were informed, in this paper on Monday laſt, that the convention with France had been tranſmitted by the French government to Guadaloupe, and had been proclaimed there.—From the following circular letter (which we received yeſterday by captain Wallace, of the brig Nancy, from St. Thomas) it appears that the agency are taking the neceſſary meaſures for carrying into effect thoſe articles in which it is more immediately concerned; acting, we preſume, from a conviction that the convention will be ratified by the preſident and Senate of the United States.]

[CIRCULAR.]

Port Liberty, 11th Nivoſe, (Dec. 31) 9th year of the French republic, one and indiviſible.

The intention and the orders of the government of the republic, notified to the agency of the conſuls by the miniſter of the marine and the colonies, are citizens that the diſpoſition of thoſe articles (a copy of which is ſubjoined) be executed with the greateſt punctuality.

[Here follow abſtracts of the 4th and 17th articles of the convention.

Every one of you, citizens, in that which concerns you, are to require, overſee, procure or maintain, with the utmoſt exactitude, the ſtrict execution of all theſe points. This injuction engages all your reſponſibility.

All the Americans, whom the fate of war may have brought into Guadaloupe or its dependencies, are to be inſtantly releaſed.

In caſe of the abſence of the perſons intereſted in reclaiming the American property captured ſince the ſigning of the treaty, and not yet definitively condemned, &c. The public miniſtry are to take charge of the buſineſs for the perſons abſent; and to put them in the way of obtaining, either on the part of the captors or the government, the ſatisfaction to which they may be entitled.

In caſe of the arrival at Guadaloupe or its dependencies, &c. of any prizes captured from the Americans, the commiſſaries of the government, delegates, or prize commiſſioners, are immediately to intervene, and to adopt every meaſure for preſerving the intereſt of whoever may have a right to it.

All captains of privateers and letters of marque are bound, on pain of loſing their commiſſions, beſides incurring the other penalties, damages, &c. to conform themſelves to the ſpirit of the convention of the 8th Vendemaire, and particularly to the 4th and 17th articles.

Copies of the ſaid articles, and of the preſent circular letter, will be this day annexed to the commiſſions of all veſſels of war and letters of marque.

All privateers and letters of marque now at ſea, which may touch at Guadaloupe or its dependencies, &c. ſhall be provided with the ſame documents by the chiefs of the war-office, or by the delegates or commiſſaries, who will take a receipt for the ſame on the back of their commiſſions.

You may conceive, citizens, how much damage the non-obſervance of theſe diſpoſitions, may cauſe to the public treaſury, as well as to the owners, captains, and ſecurities of the privateers and letters of marque.—Yourſelves, citizens, have the greateſt intereſt in preventing this non-obſervance.

The functionary who by prevarication or negligence ſhall ſuffer the leaſt infraction of the clauſes which have been juſt made known, will moſt certainly be reſponſible in his perſon and property.

You will have to render an account, citizens, each in your ſeveral ſtations, for the execution of the ſaid clauſes, at every opportunity; and we repeat to you that your reſponſibility in this reſpect is very ſerious.

SAVANNA, January 23.

Extract of a letter, of a late date, from a gentleman in Wilmington, North-Carolina, to his friend in this city.

"Wilmington has been four times within theſe 20 days attempted to be deſtroyed by fire, deſignedly and artfully, in defiance of a vigilant guard, as well by day as night. It appears that the villains whether white or black, or both, are determined to burn the town; for while the guard are watching one place, fire is diſcovered at another; fortunately all the attempts have been hitherto in time diſcovered, ſo that the fires were extinguiſhed before they had ſpread far. The horrid intention ſeems to be that of plunder, by the places in which the fires had been kindled, being beſt calculated to cauſe the greateſt deſtruction poſſible. The attempts have generally been in thoſe buildings, that have never been yet burnt, and by far the fulleſt of goods.

"Two days ſince while the court was examining certain vagrant characters, fire was cried at 10 o'clock in the day, which had juſt then been but into a cellar and piazza, among ſeveral cords of wood, ſtraw, &c. Accidental diſcoveries, have as yet, prevented great deſtruction; but how long we ſhall remain ſafe, is very uncertain; little or no buſineſs is done, a ſtrict guard is kept; but little ſleep is had; and thoſe who retire to bed, expect to be awakened by ſcenes of deſolation. At the ſeveral places where the fire broke out, have been found, combuſtibles of tow, oakum, ſplinters of light wood and dried moſs. White perſons are ſuſpected, as the firſt in the infernal plot, but it is ſuppoſed that blacks are employed to aid and carry into effect the miſchief, and every eye and ear is exerciſed to diſcover the perpetrators."

COW POX.

Extract of a letter from Dr. Letſom, of London, to Dr. Barton, of Boſton.

"Vaccine inoculation is becoming more and more general in England, and on the European continent—about 16,000 have had the diſeaſe, if diſeaſe it can be termed, without any caſe of fatality, and about 3000 have been inoculating again with the common ſmall-pox, without conveying any diſeaſe; ſo that probably ſoon no other than the cow-pox will be practiſed here.—I imagine a fatal caſe will never occur, as there is rarely more than one puſtule.

Annapolis, February 19.

ELECTION OF MR. JEFFERSON.

By a gentleman arrived yesterday from the city of Washington, we are informed, that on Tuesday last, on the house of representatives of the United States again balloting for a president, THOMAS JEFFERSON, Esquire, was elected President of the United States for four years from the fourth of March next. We are also informed, that on that ballot the states of Maryland and Delaware, in addition to the states mentioned under the Baltimore head, voted for Mr. Jefferson.

The following lines were written by a young lady of Annapolis, addressed to her friend in the same place.

GO, hapless maid, since powerful love
Invades thy tender breast,
For ever from his sight remove
Who triumphs o'er thy rest.
In desart shades, unknown to fame,
Securely may'st thou roam;
Time will thy virgin heart reclaim,
And bring the wanderer home.
Yet should Old Time be void of power,
His mem'ry to efface,
And from thy fancy blot the hour
Thou first saw N* face;
Then try what reason's soveriegn balm
Can to thy succour give,
Of power the troubled breast to calm,
And long lost peace retrieve.
Let her thy evening footsteps guide,
On her alone depend,
Thy ill plac'd passion she'll deride,
Thy future good attend.
So may'st thou wonted peace of mind,
And cheerful ease resume,
No longer to that grief resign'd
That seiz'd thy early bloom.

January 19, 1801. 2

Annapolis, January, 1801.

THE ſubſcriber preſents his moſt reſpectful compliments to thoſe indebted to him, and earneſtly ſolicits payment of their reſpective balances; he pleads poverty with great truth, and aſſures them, that nothing leſs than payments from them will enable him to comply with the indiſpenſable obligation he is under of paying his juſt debts.

FREDERICK GREEN.

TO THE PUBLIC.

BEING very deſirous to cloſe the buſineſs of the late firm of YATES and CAMPBELL, I have aſſigned the greateſt part of my private property, to ſecure the payment of every dollar owing by the ſaid firm, as will appear by the following certificate of Gabriel Wood and Edward Harris, Eſquires, and therefore take the liberty of notifying to the public, that I mean to reſume the vendue buſineſs in February next, at the old auction room, at the corner of Baltimore and Frederick-ſtreets, and ſolicit the patronage of my former employers, and the public generally, under a full aſſurance that my utmoſt abilities (in that line) ſhall be exerted for their intereſt; and all accounts ſettled with punctuality and diſpatch, by their

Moſt obedient,
Humble ſervant,
THOMAS YATES.

Baltimore, January 10, 1801.

AT a meeting of the creditors of Yates and Campbell, at Mr. James Bryden's, the 8th of December laſt, it appeared from the inſolvencies of many of Yates and Campbell's debtors, that there would not be partnerſhip property ſufficient to pay the claims againſt the ſaid firm, and that Mr. Yates's property would be eventually anſwerable for the deficiency.

The creditors then preſent took the circumſtances under conſideration, and propoſed to give Mr. Yates an indulgence of time for the payment of the debts due by Yates and Campbell, provided he, the ſaid Yates, would ſecure the full payment of the debts, by an aſſignment of property, agreeable to a liſt he then produced, which propoſals Mr. Yates readily agreed to, and has ſince conveyed the ſame (in truſt) for the ſecurity of the creditors generally.—And Mr. Yates ſignifying his intention of reſuming the vendue buſineſs, we conceive it a juſtice due him, to declare that his conduct in the arrangement made for the final adjuſtment of all claims againſt the partnerſhip of Yates and Campbell, merit our approbation, and we believe, the creditors generally.

G. WOOD, } Truſtees for the creditors of
E. HARRIS, } Yates and Campbell.

N. B. The engagements which Mr. Yates has made for the ſettlement of Yates and Campbell's buſineſs, makes it neceſſary to inform the debtors to the ſaid concern, that ſuits will be commenced (without reſpect to perſons) to the enſuing courts, unleſs their balances are adjuſted and ſettled with Mr. Yates previous thereto.

GABRIEL WOOD,
EDWARD HARRIS.
